Organize this view to limit word wrap and provide easier viewing and navigation

 Highlights from the Chrome 80 update

 Support for let and class redeclarations
 When experimenting with new code in the Console, repeating let or class declarations no longer causes errors.
 Improved WebAssembly
